Alpha Counsellors Service provides treatment to children with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD). The program will provide intervention and alternative to those youth and children with ASD who are having behavioral challenges. Staff will work to improve communication skills, improve social skills, such as how to greet people, wait for a turn and follow directions.

Alternatives in being able to sit still or controlling a temper will be addressed. If medication management is recommended, staff will work with the child and family to understand as well as monitor side effects of the medication.

Treatment can be provided in special classes at schools or at home.
