

ADHD Toolkits for Parents and Caregivers from CHADD

What is CHADD?

Children and Adults with Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (CHADD) is the nation's leading nonprofit organization serving people affected by ADHD. CHADD believes in improving the lives of people affected by ADHD.

Toolkits for Parents and Caregivers

CHADD's National Resource Center on ADHD has developed several toolkits for parents and caregivers who are just learning about attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD). The ADHD toolkits will help them gain a basic understanding of the disorder and its diagnosis and treatment in children and teens.

> Access and download the ADHD Toolkits

Diagnosis and Treatment of Children and Teens

If you are new to ADHD, this toolkit will help you gain a basic understanding of the disorder, using quick facts, infographics, podcasts, videos, a short course, and links to more in-depth articles and resources.

Your Emerging Adult

This toolkit provides resources for parents who are supporting their emerging adults with ADHD towards independence.

Suicide Prevention for Youth with ADHD

Children and teens with ADHD are at an increased risk for suicide, especially if they have a coexisting mental health condition. If you or someone you love are in suicidal crisis or emotional distress, call, text, or chat 988 to be connected to counselors at the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, across the United States.

Source URL

<https://chadd.org>

Last Reviewed

Wednesday, April 19, 2023