

Diabetes and Nutrition Program

Age Requirements

16-21

,

18 and over

Available 24/7

No

Other Eligibility Criteria

Individuals dealing with diabetes

Family

No

Intake Contact Email

info@chesapeake regional.com

Intake Process

Professional referral required. Visit the website, call for information

Report Problems

Call the Agency

Chesapeake Regional Medical Center

<https://chesapeake regional.com/>

<https://chesapeake regional.com/services-specialties/diabetes>

Main

(757) 312-6132

800 Battlefield Blvd North

23320 VA

United States

Fee Structure

Fee Range

Payment Method(s)

Private Pay

,

Private Insurance

Languages Spoken

English

Chesapeake Regional Medical Center offers complete diabetes care for adults and children.

The Diabete and Nutrition program at the Lifestyle Center is a diabetes education program to help individuals manage their diabetes through individual counseling with certified diabetes nurse educators and dietitians, group diabetes education classes called "Diabetes University" and carbohydrate counting classes. A physical referral is required.

Cooking classes teach food preparation that meets your individual health goals, including diabetes, hypertension, high cholesterol and weight control.

Inpatient care is offered in the Diabetes Unit. People who are homebound or recuperating from a recent hospital stay may need home health services. Home Care Services can provide care and most insurance policies cover the service. call 757.312.6460 for information.

Service Area(s)

Chesapeake City