ResCare provides residential services and community living supports to youth and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Participants take an active role in developing their individual service plan with the interdisciplinary team. Staff help the individuals they support to engage in family and community activities that may include participation in clubs, classes, athletics, church and other organizations.

The program goal is to help individuals achieve their highest level of independence at home and in the community. States determine what kinds of community living services that are available. These services are typically funded by Medicaid or other funding.

ResCare offers a variety of community living options to adults and children:

- Acquired Brain Injury Services,
- Adult Family Living and Host Homes,
- Residential Living,
- Youth Residential and Treatment Services,
- Youth Foster Care.
