The Parent Resource Center of Caroline County (the PRC) provides information and resources for a variety of topics from pregnancy, disabilities, study skills, homework help and reinforcement activities a parent can make to work on with your children.

The PRC promotes a partnership between families, teachers, and Caroline County schools. The Resource Center conducts workshops on issues that parents, students, and teachers face daily, including disability, special education, and mental health concerns. Information on adult education is available.

Free information and assistance are available, as well as referral services to help families locate specific local, state and national agencies.

A lending library of books, newsletters, videos, DVDs and other material are available.
