The Community Options Program is a day support program licensed by the Virginia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Services for adults with severe to profound intellectual disability, many of whom experience additional complex physical and/or sensory disabilities. Structured training (available three to five days per week) is provided in the areas of functional community skills and prevocational skills. While many of the services are provided in the center, an emphasis is placed on community-based activities as a critical part of the program to assist the individuals supported in becoming more independent.
