VersAbility Resources offers a recreation program led by a Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist. The program increases recreational opportunities for individuals with disabilities. The program teaches new skills and expands an individual's social and volunteer activities, which include group yoga, art and music therapy, pet therapy, indoor and outdoor walks, community outings, health education, dancing and more. Recreational programs help relieve stress, facilitate positive interactions and contribute to a general joy of living.

The Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist finds programs that encourage people with disabilities to achieve recreational proficiencies. Special needs in areas like motor, memory, linguistic and organizational skills are addressed with a range of activities that are satisfying, structured and diminish the fear of failure. Some of these same programs are used at the Envisions Day Support program.
