The Eye Cancer Network Foundation is an educational website dedicated to helping eye tumor patients find information about their condition and treatment, and providing support for patients and their families. Information and research of various forms of ocular tumors and related eye diseases is provided. This includes detailed descriptions, images and information about the diagnosis and treatments for each of these disorders.

The Foundation is a supportive resource for eye cancer patients and their families.

There is now a Patient Forum to connect with an online community dedicated to eye tumor patients.
