People Helping People is a cooperative ministry of churches in Harrisonburg and Rockingham County, Virginia, which helps people in an emergency crisis with resources and guidance. People Helping People (PHP) volunteers are trained and equipped to interview clients, assess their needs, and help them obtain the necessary assistance--either directly or by networking with other helping services in the area.

People facing a financial crisis and need financial assistance (examples include: medicine, work shoes, birth certificates, IDs, food for diabetics and children, etc) may come to the office and apply for help. Financial aid is determined on a per-household basis. Referrals to other agencies are always available.
