Galloping Acres therapeutic riding is co-sponsored by Hanover County Parks and Recreation. This program is taught six weeks in the fall and two six week sessions in the Spring. The program is offered to individuals with some cognitive, physical, or emotional disabilities. Classes are taught by Certified Instructors. Participants will also experience a wide range of benefits from increased flexibility and better balance to greater confidence and self esteem. Galloping Acres is also a PATH International member center.

The Galloping Acres Therapeutic Riding Lessons are held at Tall Cedars Farm.
