Lake Barcroft Village consists of neighbors providing support and volunteer time to enable members to "age in place". The Village helps members with errands, transportation, minor household maintenance, help with technology and other services and also provides social, cultural and educational programs. When volunteer help isn't enough, the Village can identify reliable paid professionals.

Visit the website for events and service descriptions, or call for more details.
Volunteers are always needed.

Lake Barcroft Village members enjoy enhanced independence and benefit from services. The Village is part of the fast-growing "aging-in-place village" movement that is changing the paradigm of aging in America.
