enCircle helps individuals by providing professional support with the daily living routines of individuals. In-home support provides skill-building and services to individuals with intellectual disabilities or developmental disabilities who are living independently or with family or caregivers in other community settings. Skill-building and support are provided in order to help the individual meet his or her medical, dietary, behavioral, personal care and daily living needs. Skill-building and support are also provided to build independence and to promote involvement in the home and in the community. This service does not provide 24-hour supervision or care. Individuals do not need to be 18 years or older in order to be eligible for this service.

Skill-building and support services include:

- Personal hygiene,
- Domestic skills,
- Social skills,
- Medication administration,
- Daily activities,
- Money management,
- Dietary needs,
- Safety,
- Transportation.

Other services include:

- Behavioral support.
