Participants are paired with a coach. Together, and with family input, they create a Personal Development Plan (PDP). The PDP establishes goals and maps out strategies for achieving those goals. With support from CA coaches, clients will work on residential and independent living skills to transition to a group or independent living setting, such as CA's Residential Program.

Participants meet with their counselor a few times a week to work on skills such as:

- Household cleanliness
- Personal finances and budgeting
- Careers and employment
- Transportation
- Personal safety
- Fitness and wellness
- Time management
- Cooking, meal prep and nutrition
- Medical care management
- Problem solving

- Communication and self advocacy
- Social skills and relationships
