Family Rules is a program for parents of out-of-control teens who are ready to do something about it. Family Rules is not a sit-back-and-listen program. It is a program for parents who are ready to work on actual changes in order to make positive changes in their homes. This program will give parents and teens a road map to follow with built-in consequences. The Family Rules Program is locally sponsored by Hampton's Healthy Families Partnership. The program consists of six group sessions for parents and four non-group family sessions conducted by the Center for Child & Family Services. A light dinner is served during each group. No child care is provided.
