Above MS understands that people who are living with Multiple Sclerosis (MS) exist in a world that is much bigger than their disease. They created a community of people who all have the same goal: to empower each other and help rise above MS. Above MS is a place where you can connect and learn from others within the MS community. They are here to help throughout the MS journey, offering relevant disease education, healthy lifestyle information, and everyday inspiration. Above MS is brought to you by Biogen.
