Infant & Toddler Connection of Central Virginia is part of Virginia's early intervention system for infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families. Early intervention supports and services focus on increasing the child's participation in family and community activities that are important to the family. In addition, parents and other caregivers learn how to help their children develop during everyday activities.

Any infant or toddler (age 0-36 months) who is not developing as expected or who has a medical condition that can delay typical development may be eligible to receive early intervention supports and services. The intake or service coordinator will gather the information needed to determine if your child is eligible. Generally, a child is eligible for early intervention if he or she is developing differently or more slowly than other children or has a health condition that will affect development.
