Although we do not have an OT on staff, we have a list of clinicians that are MyGuide ECD technology informed, that an individual can choose as their provider.

MyGuide enables users to improve their own cognitive functioning by interpreting two types of information:

- External information from a user's environment is captured and processed in a way the user can comprehend.

- Internal information, like sensations or emotions, can be accessed and expressed how and when the user chooses.

As a provider of assistive technology (AT), durable medical equipment (DME), therapeutic consultation, occupational therapy (OT), electronic home-based supports (EHBS), and technology manufacturer of MyGuide for improved cognitive functioning like comprehension, decision making, and self-expression, MPower Me believes everyone can have their own voice and choice across all settings, regardless of age or condition.
